

WHAT IS WILSON CURE FOR TRUST EVIL?

the soil will certainly never be forgotten by the sufferers.

The welfare of the farmer is vital to the whole country. One of our strongest hopes of retaining prosperity is based on the business which his crops are to afford. He is vitally interested in the restraining of excessive and unduly discriminative railroad rates, in the enforcement of pure food laws, in the promotion of scientific agriculture, in the extension of rural credits and increasing the comforts of country life, as by the extension of rural free delivery.

"The Republican party is responsible for the organization and growth of our splendid department of agriculture. Republican administrations have greatly aided agricultural development in the last fifteen years, until scientific inquiry is being made in all our states and territories and in the islands of the sea under our flag, in the end that we may produce the necessities of life for ourselves and for those whom we are responsible."

"I feel confident that the voters of Minnesota will appreciate the shaleness of the attack upon our institutions and will not be swayed by the promise of undefined benefits which are to follow undefined changes. It does not require the eye of a witch to see that closed factories in Massachusetts and Ohio mean a diminished demand for the farm products of the northwest. We cannot sink down the industries of one section without bringing disaster to all the people. It is not a progressive policy in any true sense to be hostile to the prosperity of any part of the country."

WILSON AND SMITH.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 24.—Governor Wilson has as his guest today Senator Hale Smith of Georgia, who made a speech tonight before the students of Princeton University. The governor was eager to hear Senator Smith and was greatly tempted to attend the meeting but feared his presence in the audience might force speech, and he might find himself violating his intention of keeping off the stump until Colonel Roosevelt resumes campaigning.

The governor gave out for publication two telegrams, one of which he sent to a rally at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and the other to a Western newspaper which was issuing a harvest edition.

In the latter he said:

"If the whole country could every year realize, if only on a single day, the vital fibers that connect it with the farms, the many things that lie hidden in the furrows of the field, we should no doubt think more than we do now and think to better purpose about the effects of national policy, and of all plans of national development upon the farmer and workers in the open country."

FRANTIC WITH ECZEMA

ITCHING AND BURNING DRIVE ONE ALMOST MAD.

Try this Remedy at Our Risk. Children, and grown persons too, are often driven almost frantic with the hideous itching and burning of eczema and other skin troubles, that a remedy which will not only secure their immediate comfort, but also clear away the eruption in a short time, in nothing less than a public benefit.

It is remarkable that so mild and harmless an application as our new skin remedy, Saxon Salve, can stop the itching so quickly as it does.

And its penetrating healing power is even more remarkable, for improvement is seen after the first few days and the final results must satisfy the user or we refund the money.

If you have any itching, or burning rash or humor of the skin, any scaly or chronic old skin trouble, Saxon Salve is what you need and you should try this splendid remedy. Monro Drug Co., Fresno, Cal.

A Wonderful Tonic That Aids Digestion

Thousands are unable to digest certain kinds of food, in most cases it is not the fault of the food, nor the stomach. It is probable that the stomach has been abused. Many resort to pre-digested foods and various kinds of medicines to get relief from dyspepsia, indigestion and heartburn but without permanent benefit.

If your stomach is in perfect condition, you would not need medicine to digest the foods you eat. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is a stomach regulator. It gets the stomach in such a condition that it will digest food without other assistance. It overcomes the acidity and stimulates the coating of the stomach and intestines so that they will properly absorb and assimilate the nutriment from the food eaten. Guffaw from dyspepsia and indigestion will give permanent relief in a short time after beginning the use of the tonic. For children, the addition of a little sugar will make it most palatable.

Many forms of supposed indigestion are the result of intestinal parasites for which Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed. Insist upon Jayne's as no other. Millions have praised it for more than eighty years. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

try. We need the enlightenment of such thoughts."

In his telegram to Wesleyan, where he once was an instructor, the governor said:

"It is delightful and reassuring to see the young men of the country gathering to champion the cause of free government as against special interests."

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 24.—From morning till night, Colonel Roosevelt was up and fully dressed today, walking unassisted about the house.

It was the first time since he was shot that he had been out of bed long at a time, but he felt much better after two days' rest at home than he did yesterday. He put on his khaki riding suit and surprised his family by appearing in the living room and saying he was going to have lunch on with the others.

Colonel Roosevelt was somewhat better than the physicians who had been coming from New York to care for his wound thought it unnecessary to make the trip today.

Dr. Scully L. Terrell, the Colonel's personal physician, and Dr. George W. Fuller of Oyster Bay spent a few minutes with their patient in the morning and again later in the day and found that his condition was improving steadily.

The most marked thing was his increased strength and vitality. He spent most of the day in his library, but attempted little work.

In spite of his improved condition, he found that he was far from having his usual strength and in the afternoon he became fatigued and slept two hours.

Tomorrow Colonel Roosevelt expects to resume work. He sent word to his secretary today to be at Sagamore Hill in the morning and hopes to spend several hours in dictating letters and a part of the speech he expects to deliver in New York next week.

ETERNAL PEACE NOT POSSIBLE, SAYS WOOD

Chief of Army Staff Urges Better Military Defense of Pacific

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—"War is not over and never will be so long as men are men."

Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, who is in Los Angeles today inspecting proposed sites for fortifications, made that remark to members of the chamber of commerce and others interested in the establishment of an army post near this city.

"The war in the Balkans," General Wood said, "implies for so many years and now an actuality, surely gives the champions of arbitration something to think about. Arbitration will not maintain the peace of the world. A nation's only safeguard against the horrors of war is preparedness for war."

"A nation cannot be a flabby thing; it must be able to defend itself."

General Wood said Southern California ought to increase its national guard. He declared there should be three or four regiments of full war strength south of the Tehachapi.

"We talk of our undeveloped military assets," he added. "Those which are undeveloped are of no value when there is a sudden demand. We can develop them in time, but the delay means loss of territory for a long period and great and unnecessary loss of life."

"Although the United States has the best system of coast defense in the world," he added, "it will not keep a strong army from invading our shores. Unless you have men on their legs with guns in their hands you can't keep an enemy from landing and establishing himself. The Pacific coast states form a fertile territory for an invading army could maintain itself for a long time. You people must do your part by building up a stronger national guard."

WILLIAM SMYTHE TO SPEAK HERE TUESDAY

San Diego Man and A. L. Johnson of Sacramento Are Coming

William E. Smythe of San Diego and

Albert Lawrence, Johnson of Sacramento will speak at the Boston opera house next Tuesday night in support of the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson.

Arrangements for the meeting were made yesterday by the Democratic county central committee and officers of the Wilson-Marshall Club.

Smythe is known as the founder of the Immigration Congress, and father of Benita Smythe, former editor of the Fresno Tribune.

Johnson is a nephew of Governor

Hiram W. Johnson and an attorney of Sacramento. Bay W. Rizer of the state Wilson-Ballou League was in Fresno yesterday making arrangements for the meeting which is to be held under the auspices of the local

Wilson-Marshall Club.

William Smythe supported La Follette before

the primary election in California and his name heading the list. Young

Johnson has been a Wilson man since

the primary election in California and

central committees hope to make next Tuesday's meeting one of the biggest of the campaign.

MARY'S FRIEND

ROOSEVELT MEETING AT FOWLER WELL ATTENDED

J. M. Oliver of San Francisco Says Roosevelt Is Sincere

Praises His Idea for Regulating Trusts and Revising the Tariff

J. M. Oliver, attorney of San Francisco, was the principal speaker last night at a Roosevelt Republican meeting in Fowler. The meeting was held in Fowler Hall under the auspices of the Republican County Central Committee. J. W. Wrightson presided and made a short talk after which he introduced the speaker of the evening, Oliver. Oliver last night for San Francisco, where he will speak for Roosevelt and Johnson today. He will return to the Valley tomorrow, speaking at Kingman tomorrow evening. Next week he will conduct a campaign throughout the country in the interests of the Progressive movement. His speech at Fowler last night was greeted with enthusiasm and the audience was large.

In the first place Mr. Oliver took up the modern idea that men should vote in their communities for president instead of voting according to former party affiliations. He said that the degree of independent voting is very noticeable in this campaign and this is especially true in regard to the women who are casting their first presidential vote in this state.

The speaker then discussed the tariff and briefly defined the attitude of the three leading candidates. Taft's idea, he said, is to let it alone. Wilson's idea is to cut the tariff out; while Roosevelt's proposal is to adjust and modify it so that the benefits will go to all classes and not solely to the pockets of the captains of industry. In the same manner, he briefly outlined the attitude of the candidates on the trusts, which he said was undoubtedly the dominant issue of this campaign.

Roosevelt's idea is that the federal government has no right to interfere or regulate the trusts, it being a matter for states' control. Taft's idea is that they are already sufficiently regulated. In fact, they are smashed. Roosevelt's idea is that they should be regulated by a federal commission along the lines of the interstate commerce commission.

ROOSEVELT IS SINCERE

"A notable thing in this campaign is that all the candidates protest to be Progressive as they all realize that the nation is Progressive. Wilson has given us some better plattitudes and glistering generalities about the tariff, but has been short on ordinary, every-day practical household remedies," said Oliver.

What Taft believes on the tariff is immaterial as he is not an issue in this campaign, and besides his signing of the Payne-Aldrich bill speaks plainer than anything that he may now say. Roosevelt's Progressivism is based on acts and deeds. He gave us the Dingley-Hepburn railroad act, the pure food law, meat inspection bill and conservation. Considering these things the voters need have no doubt as to which of these candidates is the real progressive."

Mr. Oliver referred to the shooting of Roosevelt and said that his speech absolutely showed his sincerity. Not knowing but that he was mortally wounded he spoke the truth when he said that his interest was for the cause and not for himself. The speaker closed with a severe arraignment of those who had ever questioned the sanity of Roosevelt's motives.

WOMAN LOOKING AT FLAT IS MISTAKEN FOR BOLD BURGLAR

Reflecting last robbers were in the flat above her, Mrs. E. Williams of 1601 Ventura street, last night called the police to her house. Patrolman Hutherford answered and made a complete search of the flat, but failed to find any robbers. Later it was learned that a woman had been in the flat, which was vacant, with the intention of renting it.

NORTHERN BISHOPS WILL SPEAK TODAY

The Rev. Robert L. Paddock, bishop of eastern Oregon, and Rev. M. Creasy of Idaho, will speak at two meetings today at St. James' Pro-Cathedral. At 2:30 o'clock the visitors will speak at the semi-annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary, to which all women are invited. At 7:30 a meeting for men will be held. Bishop Sanford will preside. All men are invited to this meeting.

BY COMMISSION

The loudest arguments against the Progressive proposals are just now directed against the Roosevelt plan to regulate trusts by commission. It is alleged that Perkins invented this scheme—which is not true, but would be nothing against it if it were true. And it is charged that it would recognize and legalize monopoly.

The appeal from these bigoted fears is simply to the court of experience. We do not have to guess how such a commission would work. We have it working already, in the regulation of railroads, and we know just how it works. Does the Interstate commerce commission "recognize and legalize" monopoly? Did its existence prevent the Northern Securities dissolution? Does it not, rather, prevent the rebates and rate wars by which competition is suppressed? Do the bank commissioners promote consolidation or prevent competition of banks? And has it hurt either the railroads or the banks, to have their conduct made public?

It is not proposed that the Industrial Commission shall be given the rate-fixing powers, though in some cases it may become ultimately necessary to have even that. Neither is it proposed that the existence of such a commission shall interfere with the punishment or breaking up of illegitimate combinations. To suppose that trust regulation will displace trust punishment is as futile as to suppose that direct legislation will supersede representative government. They are complementary to each other.

In a nutshell, the whole scheme is to regulate other great interstate businesses by methods analogous to those which have already worked so well in the case of the railroads. The plan was not invented or proposed by George W. Perkins, but it would have been eminently to his credit if it were.

MERIT POSTMASTERS

The announcement of the final inclusion of fourth-class postmasters in the classified service, under plans inaugurated some time ago, marks the final extinction of the spoils system from the Federal patronage. Some larger positions are still open to arbitrary appointment. But it is the smaller jobs that "take care of" henchmen, and these are practically all gone.

The extension ought to be particularly welcome to Congressmen everywhere. The postmasterships have always constituted a Congressman's patronage. In consequence, the postmasters in a Congressman's district have always made up his personal political machine. And, like all such machines, they have been a political liability rather than an asset. The postmasters might help a Congressman back, for a term or two, but no Congressman serves many terms without accumulating more enemies than friends in these petty village postmastership disputes.

These, however, are only negative advantages—the getting rid of old evils. As a positive system, the service is by no means complete merely by bringing the appointments under the merit system. For even yet the unit will presumably be the individual office. The postmaster at Podunk can rise no higher than Podunk, except as Podunk grows. And that omits the chief merits of a classified service. To make the system flexible, promotions easy, and good service worth while, postmasters should be transferable from place to place, the better positions being filled, as they become vacant, by those who have made the best records in the smaller positions. Thus beginners might gain their experience, first in the village and then in the small town offices, with perhaps a little experience in the railway service, and finally graduate, if they showed marked ability, even into the first-class offices, in case those should also be included in the classified service.

CRIME UNPOPULAR

The conviction of the head of the murder combine in New York, and the increasing exposures of the workings of the dynamite combine at Indianapolis, both tend to make less probable the extension of those particular forms of organized crime.

For the spectacular exposure of the consequences of wrong do defer the sort of men who commit these particular crimes. Ordinary burglars and sneak-thieves may not be much deterred by example. The only effective remedy is to lock each of them up personally. That deters him, while he is locked up. These burrowers in the underworld of private crime have the criminal short-sightedness. They lack imagination and foresight. They are like the gambler who will try his luck at a game which he knows is set up against him. But not so the intelligent and more normal-minded men who commit the public crimes. The graft exposures in San Francisco, though they convicted no one but Ruef, have stopped corporation bribery there. The McNamara confessions probably stayed the hand of more than one dynamiter, and the further exposures have probably rendered impossible, in this generation, another organized conspiracy of wholesale dynamiting. And the outcome of the Becker trial, in New York, with all its exposures, will probably put a stop to the major conspiracies between police forces and organized crime. Petty grafting may not be long affected. That is the shortsighted stealing of small men. But the organized system of connecting a metropolitan police force with gamblers, burglars and murderers, for an interest in the proceeds of their crimes, will be out of fashion.

The world grows better, by education and moral enlightenment. But the process, slower down, is helped along slightly by an occasional good scare.

IS NOW CONSERVATIVE

It is necessary, sometimes, to distinguish a candidate and his candidacy. President Taft, for instance, has personally some Progressive views and formerly had more of them, or had them more energetically. He is even responsible for some Progressive achievements. But no one now denies that his candidacy is the most conservative, even reactionary stripe. And the candidacy, more than the candidate, is the representative object of support or opposition.

In an even more striking measure, the contrast between Wilson the candidate and the Wilson candidacy is becoming evident. Woodrow Wilson personally is a good deal of a Progressive. To the extent that high character and ability and a genuine regard for the public constitute Progressivism, to that extent he is a Progressive candidate. And when he was the factional candidate of the Progressive Democrats for the nomination, then he was not only a Progressive candidate, but his candidacy was a Progressive one.

The candidate, within his original somewhat narrow limits, may still be a Progressive. But his candidacy has visibly ceased to be a Progressive one. A candidacy is determined only incidentally by the person, and primarily by what it represents in the interacting forces of politics. By that test, the Wilson candidacy is now distinctly the Conservative one. As witness, first, the Conservative support of Wilson, and, second, his ready acceptance of that role, and temperamental fitness for it.

The stampede of stand-pat leaders of the old machine to Wilson is by no means confined to California, where it has a plausible "talking point." The California bolters make their voluntary self-exclusion from the ballot the mere subterfuge for a course which they would have followed anyway, ... which their colleagues in other states are also following. The California situation merely gives them a pretext for acting more openly. Up in Oregon, for instance, the Portland Oregonian is appealing frantically to the stand-pat Republicans to stop their stamp to Wilson. In New York, Harper's Weekly is making the same appeal in the opposite direction—to support Wilson as the one conservative escape from Roosevelt radicalism. And in California every traditional organ or recent convert of the old machine is vociferously for Wilson.

The situation was inevitable. Wilson personally is of the Conservative—almost the Parker-type. The only reason he is not facing the Parker fizzle is the different strategic situation. His party is essentially Conservative in most of its make-up. The two props of Democracy, without which it could not have stood until now, are the Solid South and Tammany—neither of them Progressive. With the elimination of Taft from practical consideration, and the impending formal extinction of the stand-pat Republican party, by the desertion of all its members, the Democratic party gravitates, just by the law of balances, into the position of the Conservative party. A Democratic victory, if it were to come this year, would be a Conservative victory, which 1916 would have to undo. And the Conservative forces are recognizing that fact, and acting on it.

Which is sufficient reason why no Progressive, of either affiliation, should now join with them.

VICTORY EITHER WAY

Secretary Wickesham holds Roosevelt responsible for the impending defeat of Taft, saying that the Democrats alone could not have defeated him. The Secretary feels nobody—probably not even himself. When the first Chicago convention met recently, in Murray Crane's phrase, to "rule AND ruin," everybody in it knew that Taft could not be elected. What the Progressive organization contributed was the certainty that the election of Wilson would not be by default, and that, if it were accomplished, the Democratic party would not be established as the Progressive party, to lead that movement with all its hereditary inaptitudes. The Roosevelt candidacy has already put the Democratic party in the place which it was bound in any event ultimately to occupy—that of the Conservative party. It has made possible a real Progressive victory this year, and has made it certain that, even if it were not accomplished this year, there will be an organized force to accomplish it in 1916. In the beginning there was no hope before 1916. Now the tide has turned toward 1912. But it is a victory, either way—it is 1915 or 1916.

The actual expenditures of the Progressive headquarters are shown to be only one-tenth what popular slander had assessed them, and the "millions" contributed by George W. Perkins dwindled to $40,000, most of which went for printing. Shades of Merle Hanna! What has the "game" come to?

A LETTER TO "BOB"
FROM O. K. DAVIS ON DEMOCRATIC GANGThe Wilson Organization, as Well as The Taft, Hopelessly in the Grip of Ring Rule

"Personal"
September 26, 1912.
Mr. R. S. Weed, No. 416 Main Street,
Buffalo, New York:
Dear Bob:

I am very glad indeed to have your very good letter of the 24th instant. The fact of the business is that we are not able to make the campaign the way we ought to make for the simple reason that we haven't the money. The real truth is that we have been curbed during this whole campaign by the reputation for having a lot of money when, as a matter of fact, we have been poverty stricken all the time. It is a very curious thing to me that this should be so. I asked a bunch of newspaper men, who were in here yesterday afternoon, what they thought about it. There are two millionaires, Mr. Perkins and Mr. Munsey, who are supporting the Progressive party. That fact is constantly in the newspapers and is constantly used to make the public believe that this committee has all the money that can possibly use. Now, as a matter of fact, neither Mr. Perkins nor Mr. Munsey is an exceptionally wealthy man; besides, even if these two men were able to finance the whole campaign it would be a very bad thing for them to do, and both realize it as clearly as the rest of us do. We are making very strenuous efforts to raise money by popular subscription, but our lecturers constantly meet this notion that we are extremely well provided for and thus far have not been very successful.

The fact is that the Democratic party hangs hopelessly in the grip of the reactionary gang as is the Republican party. The only trouble is that the people generally do not appreciate that fact yet. A great many honest men in the country have not waked up to the fact that behind the machine of both old parties stand a comparatively small group who never appear openly in connection with either party, but who certainly exercise an almost complete practical control over both. Our hope lies in breaking down this bi-partisan control and it is absolutely necessary to smash both the Democratic and Republican parties to do so.

All over the country people are aware of the fact that in their municipal governments there has been a bi-partisan arrangement in power. Administrations have changed but not the government. It is that way in cities all over the country, in many states also, and it is pretty much that way in the nation.

Now, at the risk of making this letter a mile long, I am going to point out some of the things that will happen in case Mr. Wilson should be elected to the presidency. He said the other day in a speech in Jersey City that it was absolutely necessary to have good men not only at the head of the ticket, but in every place on every ticket. He added that it was amazing to him that good men everywhere did not see this. Now, if we concede 100 per cent of sincerity, integrity, ability, patriotism and progressiveness to Mr. Wilson, we can still demonstrate that his election will not and cannot possibly accomplish what it is in the hearts of good people who now intend to vote for him to have accomplished. This because Mr. Wilson's national and state tickets in no manner conform to his own prescription as to what is imperatively necessary.

Mr. Wilson's running mate on the national ticket, Governor Marshall, is one of the most notorious reactionaries of the country. His entire record from the time he entered politics, as a young man, to date is intensely reactionary. In Indiana and throughout the middle west, where they know him, there is no question of that fact as speaker in the last Republican house and who was of vital assistance to the Cannon gang in the adoption of its rules and in the organization of the house. He is the man who, more than any other, has been responsible for the extraordinary flaccid of political legislation attempted to be enacted by the Democrats upon the appropriation legislation of the last session. It was his machinations that very largely caused the extraordinary and humiliating failure to pass the regular appropriation bills before the close of the fiscal year. There is not a business house in the world that for five minutes would maintain a finance committee which so botched and bungled its financial affairs as the Democratic Committee on Appropriations. PROSPECTOR FOUND MURDERED IN MONTANA

BUTTE, Oct. 23.—Lewis Daly, a pioneer mining prospector in the Cripple Creek district, west of here, was found murdered today. The old man's arms had been tied behind his back and his brains beaten out with a club. Daly, after many years of effort had apparently struck it rich, and the motive of the murder, the authorities believe, was robbery. There is no clue to the murderer.

NO WORD FROM WRECKED STEAMER

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Oct. 23.—Life saving crews along the Texas coast today searched for the two boatloads of survivors from the lost steamer Nicaragua, whose captain and one-ton load of men were rescued here yesterday. It was said today there were originally fourteen men in the two missing boats. They have been adrift since October 16.

BUTTE, Oct. 23.—Although officials of the Butte miners' union tonight refused to give out any information regarding the result of the vote taken to extend financial aid to the striking miners at Bingham, Utah, it was reported that the union had decided against the proposed assessment by a 3 to 17 vote. The engineers' union voted to levy an assessment of $1 a member for the aid of the Bingham strikers.

SOCIETY

At a prettily appointed home wedding last night at the residence of
Mr. and Mrs. Allan McNab in Kuppen Colony, were celebrated the nuptials of their daughter, Miss Gladys McNab and Milton Possona. A veritable bower of greenery had been skillfully arranged in the living room as a setting for the ceremony. Similar wreathes of greenery and blossoms, huge pumpkins hollowed out, served as lanterns.
The members mated themselves with needlework during part of the afternoon, and a delightful program arranged by Mrs. H. H. Alexander, president of the section included vocal solos by Miss Geneva Eis, of Alameda, the "Bread of the Morning" by H. L. Hayes, and "The Norse Abatene's Lament" by Cecilia Heesacker.
Very delightful readings by Miss Doris Chapman, also of Alameda,
"Money Musk" and "If I Should Die Young," with musical settings by Mrs. Adolph Schubert.

Refreshments of a very satisfying nature were served, conforming to the mores of a Dutch luncheon. Mrs.
Kerman, Lori, and Mrs. W. L.
Adams officiated on the refreshment committee.

Mrs. Evelyn Butler Pracht of Oakland has decided upon the 11th of November for the date of her marriage to Torild Hellborn of that city. The marriage will be of much interest locally, as the bride was a former school girl, and the groom is a cousin of Mrs. Frederick L. Swart.

A wedding supper was served after the expression of felicitations on the part of the wedding guests, who were composed of the relatives and close friends of the young couple, and the table was very prettily adorned with a wealth of white chrysanthemums.
Later the bride slipped away to don her traveling attire, a becoming suit of ink blue serge with which she wore a hat of black velvet ornamented with a French plume and small pink flowers. The destination of the honeymoon trip was successfully kept secret.

Miss Constance Beveridge and Miss Margaret Kenyon will spend the week end in Visalia as the guests of Mr.
and Mrs. Geoffrey Bell.

Mrs. Clinton Collins will entertain the Bridgeton Club this afternoon at her home on 1 street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Minturn will entertain informally this evening in compliment to their house guest Miss Katherine MacAdam of San Francisco. The attractive living room lends itself admirably for dancing and is well decorated with buck-leberry and potted plants. Card tables will also be arranged for some impromptu games.

Among those in the party will be
Mr. and Mrs. James Gearhart, Mr.
and Mrs. W. W. Sargent, Mr. and Mrs.
Clarence H. Staples, Misses Katherine
MacAdam, Persia Alexander, Geneva
Ellis, of San Francisco, Inez Dickinson, Leda Elbert, Measha Archibald G.
Story, of Porterville, Jack Cheney,
Peterson, Fred McNamee and Ned Grayson.

The Home Department of the Parlor
Lecture Club enjoyed a pleasant affair
in the club house yesterday afternoon.

The Praise That Comes From Thank-

One kidney remedy has known merit.

Fresno people rely upon it.

That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.
Fresno testimony proves it reliable.
C. J. Benson, 958 M St., Fresno, Cal., says: "I can again with pleasure recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all kidney sufferers. Since I publicly endorsed them in 1907, I have had no further use for them personally as they cured me of the trouble from which I had been suffering. The cure has been permanent. For several years I was bothered with kidney and bladder trouble so severe at times that I was hardly able to get around. I had to get up at night to pass the kidney secretions and my rest was broken. My back ached constantly and when I arose in the morning, it was impossible to stoop or sit upright. I had dizzy spells and much headache and felt worn out all the time. I had no ambition.
Nothing seemed to do me the slightest good, although I took many so-called kidney remedies. Finally I read about Doan's Kidney Pills. The remedy was so highly recommended by people I knew that I decided to give it a trial and the contents of three boxes, which I procured at Baker and Colson's Drug Store removed every symptom of the trouble. I am now enjoying good health and give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit."

Mrs. E. F. Otto was the hostess at the meeting of the Sweetie Birthday Club yesterday afternoon, entertaining the members at her home on J street. The affair was made doubly pleasurable, as Mrs. Jack McFarland and Mrs. A. C. Dickson shared honors as celebrants of their natal days. They were presented with dainty hand-painted cups and saucers as souvenirs of the afternoon. Tantalizing refreshments were served, the places of the two guests of honor being marked with lighted birthday cakes.

The Emerson Guild of the First Unitarian church will enjoy its first social evening of the season this evening in the church parlor. Informal dancing will be part of the evening's entertainment and a new phonograph recently purchased, will be "tried

Rev. Reginald Hodgeson left last night for his home in Berkeley, after a brief visit in Fresno with his mother.
Mrs. Hodgeson, Rev. Hodgeson, was on route from the Episcopal convention in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Arthur Bennett entertained the Lavender Embroidery Club at her home yesterday afternoon. The usual needlework session was enjoyed, after which refreshments were served. The club will meet next at Mrs. Owen Kellogg's.

The Girls' Glee Club will entertain
this evening with a Halloween dancing party in the High School auditorium.
The affair will be a masquerade, and no one will be admitted unless accompanied by a member of the glee club, the members alone being acquainted with the mysterious pass word.

The Alert Circle of the First Christian church will meet this afternoon with Mrs. P. S. Martin at her home, 2413 Stanislaus street at 2:30. A program of piano numbers and readings will be given by Miss Florence Rawlins and Miss Lura Schramm. Mrs. Martin requests the presence of all members.

The Jolly Twelve Card Club will be entertained this afternoon by Mrs. E.
W. Holcomb at her home on J street.

Mrs. E. V. Signer, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Gilligan, of Ahwahne, are the house guests of Mrs. F. T. Barker.

Mrs. W. P. Miller concluded her lecture on Browning's "Blot on the Sheeton" at the High school yesterday afternoon. Her topic for next week will be the life of Tennyson, and the beginning of the Idylls, the story of Elaine, the life and of Astolat, being scheduled as the first.

Mrs. and Mrs. Lindsay South have returned from a short honeymoon spent in San Francisco.

The Friday Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Cardwell this afternoon, at 1336 N street, Mrs. W.
P. Miller leading in the study of Shakespeare's "Henry IV."

The Welcome Circle of the First Presbyterian church will meet this afternoon with Mrs. C. S. Pierce on K street.

The Matron's Club was delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. S. W. Knowles at her home on Clark street, the affair being a real Halloween observance. The rooms were a blaze with electrical novelties of the season, and masses of chrysanthemums. While chatting over

General Health and the Nerves

Will Get the Benefit.

If you are a nervous sufferer and are willing to help yourself there is no reason to become discouraged.

Good, pure blood, fresh air, nourishing food and a fair observance of the laws of health are all that you need to restore the strength and health of your nerves. Live up to these conditions and the nerves, brain, stomach, kidneys, heart and liver will keep in perfect working order.

It is not sheer nerve that is needed,
but plenty of nourishment. Anything that you can do to build up your general health will strengthen your nerves. You will find

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People
the greatest help. Free from any harmful or habit-forming drug, they start to work at once cleansing and enriching the blood, and giving the body a full supply of the nutritive elements of life.

Why not choose health

now by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

a thorough trial?

Mrs. Jack Clark, whose address is

No. 31, R. F. D. No. 1, Medicine Lodge,

Kansas, says:

"Through overwork I suffered from a general breakdown for about a year.
I was very nervous all of the time and had no strength at all. I had severe headaches which nearly drove me crazy.
They often lasted for two or three days.
I was subject to dizzy spells and a blurring sensation over my eye. I was also subject to hot flashes. Any little excitement would bring on these nervous and dizzy spells. I could get but little rest and was tired out all of the time.
I had no ambition to work and was frequently forced to stay in bed for a day or two."

"I did not get any benefit until I tried

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

They helped me so much that I was soon able to sleep well and after a thorough trial I was entirely cured.

Since then I have given the pills to my daughter, who was very weak and i-

poor health, and they cured her also. We feel that we cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People to highly."

ASKS REHEARING OF OUSTER PROCEEDINGS

Manuel Martin filed papers yesterday to re-open the suit of A. R. Brown in which judgment by default was given against him on Tuesday to sustain him from land on the West Side and recover $700 damages for the destruction of pasture, by feeding sheep thereon. The re-hearing is asked on the ground that the judgment was taken on the personal neglect of Martin, who mistakenly believed that the summons was served on him on last Friday instead of Saturday, and the attorney did not learn otherwise until he filed demurrer. Martin presents an answer in the event of the re-opening of the case to show that in January last he paid J. E. Davis $22 for the pasture right on the land and therefore was not in unlawful possession.

Two Selma couples married in Fresno

Justice of the Peace Smith yesterday united two couples from Selma in marriage. The first couple to be joined in wedlock was Buford Bobbs and Miss Edna Smith. Bobbs is a drywaller. Charles M. Brown and Miss Rosa Bates were married later in the afternoon.

INQUEST TODAY OVER VICTIM OF ACCIDENT ROSCOE PARKER TO GET HEARING TODAY

Men Differ as to Rate of Speed of Auto; Steering Gear Broke

Charge of Setting Fire to Old Holland Hotel Will Be Pressed

An investigation into the facts surrounding the automobile accident on Monday night near Laton, which resulted in the death of Frank Hemm Wednesday night, was made yesterday by Coroner Hemm and will be told to the jurors at the coroner's inquest this afternoon at 5 o'clock at Laton. A. E. Chartrand, who was driving the car when it rolled off an embankment, yesterday made a statement to Coroner Hemm in which he said that he thought his steering gear broke and that was what caused the auto to go over into the ditch. He said he was traveling about 40 miles an hour and had just crossed a bridge when the car started to sway from side to side and failed to keep in the middle of the road, although he turned the steering gear. Chartrand said that he and Bonito and Antonio B. Silvers had been in the Riverdale district Monday and were on their way home. L. M. Fredericks, who was in the accident, asked the men for a ride and was being brought into Fresno in the car. Fredericks' statement to the coroner was the same as Chartrand's, only he estimated the rate of speed at 35 miles an hour in place of 40 miles. The body of Bonito has been taken to Hanford and will be buried there.

The re-hearing is asked on the ground that the judgment was taken on the personal neglect of Martin, who mistakenly believed that the summons was served on him on last Friday instead of Saturday, and the attorney did not learn otherwise until he filed demurrer. Martin presents an answer in the event of the re-opening of the case to show that in January last he paid J. E. Before Mr. Parker, arrested last week on suspicion that he set fire to the old Holland hotel in order to get the insurance, will be given his preliminary hearing this morning at 10 o'clock before City Justice Graham on a charge of arson. The hearing will probably be one of the hardest fought battles in recent months, as Parker has engaged Attorneys Van Meter and Thedrik and Attorneys Johnston and Jones to represent him. The prosecution will be conducted by a representative from the district attorney's office.

The warrant for Parker's arrest was sworn to by Ed McElhanian, who was hired by the insurance companies.

McElhanian was first employed by the insurance companies to estimate the valuation of the old hotel and the furniture, but his investigation resulted in the alleged discovery that the fire was of incendiary origin and ended with the arrest of Parker. McElhanian was arrested by Detective Farman of the police department.

Parker and his brother conducted a road house at the old Holland hotel, which is located about five miles from town near Blackstone's Avenue, but closed down after the county was voted "dry." The fire which destroyed

the house started at midnight in the root and burned the building to the ground. Insurance to the amount of $10,000 was carried on the building and contents.

The prosecution alleges that it can produce a witness who saw Parker

tear a hole in the ceiling on the top floor of the house, kindle a fire and pour gasoline over the wood. It is reported that the witness did not see

Parker touch the match to the rubbish. Parker is being held in jail in default of bail. At the time of his arrest Parker denied his guilt and said he could prove his innocence at his preliminary hearing.

Complaint was received yesterday

by mail by the county clerk for filing on behalf of Mrs. Caroline R. Brown of Elmhurst, Cal., asking that deeds to 320 acres of land in this county be set aside and delivered up for can-culation, because in the making of them advantage was taken of her sixty years of age and her absolute ignorance of business affairs.

The suit is against her niece, Grace,

and her husband, Gerald Walk, for murder in LeGrande, Ore., but since the death of Alameda county, of her husband, Charles R. Brown, residing with her as members of the Brown family. Though the husband's death occurred in April, 1910, no petition for letters to administer upon his estate was made by the widow until a few days ago, and this application is an act unacted upon. The application followed the discovery of the alleged frauds.

Mrs. Brown says that soon after the house became a member of her household last month, inquiries were made by her and husband as to what disposition had been made of the estate,

and being informed that nothing had been done, the widow says she was told it was not necessary to undertake proceedings in probate, and that es-ecutes were often "fixed" without going through the probate court.

Mrs. Brown avers that on the 13th

inst. her niece had caused two deeds

to be prepared and she signed and ac-

REPUBLICAN COOKING SCHOOL WILL BE BIG EVENT IN THIS COMMUNITY

In Order to Assure Quietness During the Demonstration, It Is Requested That No Wee Small Children or Babes in Arms Be Brought to the School

From all indications Armory Hall is going to be taxed to its capacity on next Monday afternoon, the opening day of the Republican's Cooking School. It is to be a big event highly instructive and very entertaining. Already hundreds of session tickets have been sold by ladies who are anxious to attend daily. The cooking course is absolutely free, but it is advised that you secure a session ticket so as to be certain of a seat, as the crowds will be enormous. These tickets can be secured by clipping the coupon from the Republican and presenting same at the Republican Business Office or your grocery.

To get best results from the demonstration it is requested that no very young children or babies in arms be brought to the cooking school. It is also hoped that the audience will be at the hall before 3 p.m. every afternoon, as a fine musical program starts promptly at 2 o'clock.

Three times a day means 1,095 meals a year.

A woman who does her own cooking spends many hours in the kitchen in the course of a year. It is a never-ending task. Any scientific methods that will lighten this labor and shorten the time necessary to buy, prepare and serve food, making cooking a delight instead of a drudgery, will be gladly welcomed with open arms by the ladies of this community.

Cooking is an all-important eternal question in any household no matter whether you do your own cooking or simply superintend it.

There is no disputing that cooking is an art. You can serve food thoroughly cooked and appetizing, or ill-cooked and indigestible.

Judgment must be used in purchasing the food supplies, and economical, intelligent buying enters largely into your cost of living. You should also have a stove or range that is convenient and an economical fuel consumer. Another problem that confronts the up-to-date housewife is how to have an absolutely sanitary modern kitchen, equipped with easy-to-clean, time-saving cooking utensils, for the arrangement of your kitchen and the utensils you use play a most important role in the art of cooking.

No matter how much care is used in the selection of your roasts or how perfect your stove or range, or how carefully you may have selected the utensils, if you have not mastered the Science of Cooking, you cannot possibly serve food that is thoroughly cooked and appetizing.

For this reason, cooking clubs, cooking and domestic science schools have sprung up all over the country. Lecturers and demonstrators who have mastered the Science of Cooking draw large and enthusiastic audiences everywhere.

Mrs. Armstrong, who will aldemonstrator is known to many here.

COOKING A RARE ACCOMPLISHMENT.

While it is true that some women look upon cooking and baking as a more or less disagreeable task that must be performed with patience and forbearance, this mental attitude is the result of following unscientific and improper methods. To those who have really mastered the art of cooking, it is fascinating work.

"Most women have never actually tried to cook and the results are disappointing to say the least. This is what discourages many women, who under proper instruction, could soon master the art and would then take pleasure in performing this important and necessary household task."

"To be a really good cook," continued Mrs. Armstrong, "is one of the finest, rarest and most highly appreciated attainments that any woman can possibly aspire to."

"When a woman has once achieved this distinction, it is always a great source of pride to herself and a pleasure to her family. In the Cooking Course it will be my aim to give to all who attend regularly a correct understanding of the underlying principles of the science of cooking and to point out the many mistakes the average woman makes in preparing food for the table."

One reason for the wonderful success of Mrs. Armstrong as a lecturer and demonstrator is that while she is familiar with every detail of good cooking as practiced in the most prominent cafes and hotels, at the same time her sympathies are with the housewife. She has specialized in cooking for the home and all she teaches in the Cooking Course next week can readily be adapted to home conditions.

AVERAGE WOMAN HAS NATURAL COOKING ABILITY.

Domestic Science teaches us that the culinary department of every home is the chemical laboratory of that home. Entire families can be made either happy or miserable by the use or misuse of the domestic laboratory. Poorly cooked, unwholesome food has caused much domestic infidelity.

The apostle of good cooking, Mrs. Armstrong, who will deliver a series of lectures and give demonstrations each day next week, firmly believes that the average woman has a natural ability to cook well. In most cases all she needs is a little instruction in the proper method of handling food. This information can be mastered quickly and easily. This has been demonstrated time and time again. Thousands of ladies who have attended her lectures and studies the problem of cooking from an artistic and scientific standpoint, have gone home and after little practice become thoroughly proficient. The day is not far distant when the incompetent cook will be in the minority, as educational work in the culinary art is being pushed vigorously in all parts of the country.

In the early days good cooking was appreciated. Oliver Goldsmith in his celebrated poem, "The Traveller," wrote the following verse:

"Blest be those feasts, with simple plenty crowned,

Where all the ruddy family around

Laughs at the jests or pranks that never fail;

Or sit with pity at some mournful tale."

The subject of cooking interests everyone. Those who do not live to eat, must at least eat to live.

LECTURES EXCEEDINGLY INTERESTING.

The Republican will open a Free Cooking Course next Monday afternoon. Everybody is welcomed; the housewife, young lady or girl who fails to attend will miss both an interesting and instructive entertainment. When it comes to explaining the why and wherefores of measuring, mixing, boiling, roasting, baking and all other processes pertaining to the preparation of food, Mrs. Armstrong has no equal. Not only does she know these things and has the ability to impart this information to her audience, but she can also talk about them in an interesting manner. While you watch Mrs. Armstrong prepare a menu, she keeps up an interesting flow of conversation, describing each movement in detail. You will not only learn how the food is prepared, but the actual doing of it will be conducted under your very eyes.

OPENS MONDAY NEXT.

Don't allow any social engagement to prevent you from attending the opening session of the Cooking Course at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon at Armory Hall. Bring your friends with you. The lectures and demonstrations are free and everybody is invited.

As previously mentioned in these columns, at the opening session, drawings will be given out in regard to the Baking and Cooking Contest. The prizes for this contest will also be on exhibition.

You can't afford to miss a single afternoon session next week, so make your plans accordingly.

BURST OF MELODY IN EMPIRE BILL

Ella Fant, 300 pounds of fun at Empire.

There is plenty of melody in the new Empire bill. Some of it is furnished by Ella Fant, the 300 pounds of merry fun, who varies her act by playing wonderfully well on the snare-phone. Miss Ella is a jolly nineteen-year old young gnatress who sings some very funny songs of her own origin.

Rich, haunting melody, the sobbing of violins, the deep, reverberating notes of the bass viol and the lighter, more joyous notes of the cello, and the smooth harmony of the piano unite to

"In Old Kentucky"

"In Old Kentucky," one of the sweetest and prettiest dramas of American life ever written for the stage, is announced for appearance again at the Barton next Monday evening, October 26.

It is as pure, clean and wholesome as the clear crystal spring water which trickles down the rugged sides of the Kentucky mountains to give life and vigor to the beautiful bluegrass region below, where the stirring scenes of the play are laid. With a charm that year by year constant presentation cannot dim, this favorite drama goes on delighting thousands of playgoers yearly. Now in the 20th year of its victorious career, it meets competition from never offerings and opposition from countess attractions without losing its hold on the affections of theater patrons in the slightest degree. All over the United States and Canada, and even in England, where the play has been unusually successful, during the past year, it has won the name "Old Kentucky" for a meaning that carries more significance to the average man, woman and child than almost any other play.

Incident in the recital of the romantic story forming the basis of the play. The bracing atmosphere of life in the open is preserved with remarkable fidelity.

The locale of the action in the piece permits the creation of novel and picturesque scenic effects and Klaw & Erlanger spared no pains to make the most of the opportunity thus offered for creating an attractive background for the dramatic movements. The admirable company, whose performances contributed so much to the success of the production will be seen here. Its principals include Marilyn Arbuckle, Elmer Grandin, Ordeon Crane, William Conding, Gus Christie, Robert Vaughan, Harry Cowan, George Harcourt, Jacques Martin, Vernon Wallace, James Asburn, Edward F. Settle.

As previously mentioned in these columns, at the opening session, drawings will be given out in regard to the Baking and Cooking Contest. The prizes for this contest will also be on exhibition.

OIL BURNING VESSEL
MAKES 14,000 MILES
COMSTOCK CRUDE OIL
TO BEGIN OPERATIONS

Goes From Baltimore to Seattle, Carrying Large Cargo

OIL PRODUCERS WILL MEET TO FRAME LAWS

ORGANIZES WITH HALF MILLION CAPITAL TO DEVELOP
LIGHT OIL SECTION

COALINGA, Oct. 24.—In the Merchant Marine circle an event of much interest was the voyage of the steam freighter "Homolulu," from Baltimore, Md., to Seattle, Wash., carrying a cargo of 7,000 tons of coal. The Homolulu is an oil burner. The journey covered 14,000 miles and required one barrel of oil per mile. Thus 7,000 tons of coal were moved one mile by one barrel of oil. The oil weighed 1,866 short tons. To serve the same purpose it is estimated that it would have required 5,000 tons of coal. There was 3,734 tons in weight saved and the space was occupied by coal upon which a charge was made for transportation. The Homolulu was driven by the usual steam engines that are installed in the average freight carriers in the ocean traffic. The heavy engines of the fleet are to continue to develop. The extensive adoption of oil fuel for marine service within comparatively a few years seem probable. The twelve recently built submarines will have Diesel engines of from 300 to 450 horsepower. The submarine tender "Nugari" will have a Diesel type engine installed of 500 horsepower. The department will equip a fifty-foot cutter with a 120 horsepower internal combustion engine for experimental purposes. The increasing use of the internal combustion engines, on tank, freight and passenger carrying crafts are no longer deemed to be correct. A new term will be required for distinction between the vessels driven by steam and those using the internal combustion engines on the Diesel type. Sailing vessels, steam ships, gasoline launches and "gas-driven ships" as the spark that ignites the gas to the oil in the cylinder would apply to the last named. There are a few small crafts that use electric storage to drive the engines. A large government cutter now being completed at Mare Island, will be driven by electricity generated by steam on ship board. The steam will be created by crude oil. In the near future still another craft, the "electric ship," will be used, giving five methods of moving vessels through the water.

OUTLOOK FOR OIL IS

Wells Already Sunk Show
Paraffine Base Oil of Above 40 Gravity

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 24.—L. B. McMurry, who formerly was extensively interested in oil lands in the Midway field, which he later sold to the Associated Oil Company, in conjunction with Major W. A. Hoerner, has 12,000 acres of patented land in San Benito county; McMurry says there is a good outlook for oil in San Benito county, and that wells there have shown oil of a paraffine base as high as 40 gravity. With Major Hoerner, former Sheriff Kay of Tulare county, and W. P. Stuck, another oil man, McMurry and Hoerner visited the Midway belt on Wednesday.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 24.—The Good Hope Oil Company has been incorporated by Charles Dickinson, L. L. Cole and C. V. Vanderhorst of Maricopa, W. H. Hill and J. F. Wright of Bakersfield.

COALINGA DIRECTORS WILL MEET SATURDAY

Question of Contracts With Low Grade Producers to Be Given Discussion

COALINGA, Oct. 24.—A call has been issued for a meeting to be held here Saturday of the Coalina directors of the Independent Producers' Agency and representatives of the companies interested to discuss matters that are to come up at the Midway meeting Tuesday, when views will be exchanged and a line up of action formed.

The principal question at issue is whether or not it will be advisable to take into the Agency those companies whose oil will not be accepted by the Standard Oil company after their present contracts have expired.

Up to the present time it is not absolutely certain that these companies will ask to come into the Agency but as the call for the Agency meeting in Bakersfield includes that feature as a subject for discussion and action, the local directors believe they should discuss the matter and plan some action to carry out their views.

The matters to come up at the Bakersfield meeting are of the most vital importance to all of the Agency companies in this field, and every person interested is asked to attend the meeting Saturday afternoon at the Growlers' club

DEVELOPMENT NEWS OF MIDWAY FIELD

TACIT, Oct. 24.—Superintendent Dave Kinsey has been having much trouble in the drilling of the No. 2 well on his valuable Midway Fields property on section 4, 11-23. The well has been put down to a depth of 700 feet. A change of drill team has now been made. The well known as Etna being installed resulting in better results than before.

Superintendent Dave Martin of the Oakland Midway Oil Company, is preparing to spud in his No. 3 well in a few days. He has contracted for 15%, 10 and 8 inch Etna casing to be used in the new hole. It is on section 13, 21-22.

The United Oil Company has its new camp nearly finished on section 23, 21-22. Preparations are being made to spud in the first well on this property, it having been idle since being acquired by the United Company, although it is in proven territory. Contracts have been made for the use of Etna casing in this new well.

The No. 1 well of the McGinn & Henderson lease, better known as the old Cherokee, is ready to bring in at a depth of 1,485 feet. Arrangements were made yesterday to perforate the pipe which has been put down in record time. The well is another demonstration of what can be done in drilling by electricity. A daily average of seventy feet was made in the putting down of the hole whenever active drilling was in progress. The well is on section 14, 21-22. R. H. Henderson is in charge as superintendent.

The finding of much light oil in the Fullerton Field, it is reported, has brought about plans of a number of West Side oil companies to take over leases in that neighborhood. It was reported yesterday that the North American Oil Company is among the larger operators that are negotiating for proven property in the coming district. The hall was furnished.

GIVE DEEDS TO OIL LAND IN KERN CO.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 24.—W. E. Knowles and W. J. Seaman, members of the Seaman Oil Company, filed a deed for 40 acres in section 17-28-27 of Kern river. Knowles also has given deed to D. E. Kenney and five other heirs of A. S. Kenney, deed for five acres in same section, and received deed from the Kenneys for the land. Knowles died to Seaman.

The Midway Gas company has recorded rights of way secured from the Kern County Land company over sections 31, 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 12-22; sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13-21; sections 18, 14, 15, 16, 17, 24 in 12-20; the same being ten feet wide for a pipe line.

DRIVER OF RACING FORMER SHERIFF HEIR AUTO WILL BE ARRESTED

Walter Jackson of Visalia
Said to Have Driven
Red Touring Car

Chauffeur Who Crowded
Rev. Conley From Road
Will Be Arrested Today

The identity of the man who last Saturday afternoon drove a big red touring car down Railroad avenue at a terrific speed and out of control, path key, J. W. Conley of the First Baptist church was forced to turn his machine into a ditch to avoid a head-on collision with an automobile. The accident in been learned by the authorities and yesterday City Justice Graham issued a warrant for the arrest of Walter Jackson on a charge of exceeding the speed limit. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Ben Drenth and will be served today in Visalia. A more serious charge may be brought against Jackson after he is arrested as he is alleged to have raced down the road after he was aware that the automobile in which Dr. Conley and party were riding had turned turtle.

The complaint was sworn to by N. P. Eby, husband of one of the women in the machine who narrowly escaped being killed by the reckless driving of the Visalia autoist. Jackson is reported to be a chauffeur for a Visalia physician.

The accident happened Saturday afternoon on Railroad avenue just the other side of Adams. Dr. Conley with his wife and Mrs. Eby and her mother, Mrs. Powers, had driven down to Kingsburg earlier in the afternoon to bring Dr. Conley's daughter back to this city. They were on their return trip and had almost reached Madera when the red touring car leaped up in the road. At this stretch the road is rather narrow and the Visalia autoist is alleged to have been in the middle of the road and failed to give an inch.

Dr. Conley in a second realized that there was not enough room to pass the speeding machine and in order to avert a head-on collision with the powerful red racer Dr. Conley turned his car and went over an embankment. The occupants of the minister's machine were pinned beneath the car and all escaped serious injury with the exception of Mrs. Powers, who was severely lacerated and suffered a broken wrist.

The man driving the car, whom the authorities claim was Jackson, did not stop to learn if the occupants of the car were killed or if he could be of any assistance, but raced on.

FRUIT MOVEMENT GROWING SMALLER

FRUIT SHIPMENTS.
Shipments reported 4,000
Shipments yesterday 35

Total to date 4,028

The movement of green fruit out of this district, which covers the valley south of San Joaquin county, is gradually growing smaller daily, though thirty-five cars were shipped out yesterday. The total movement is not expected to exceed the 4,500 mark, leaving by 464 cars to go eastward. The arrival of light frosts is expected to ripen a few of the grapes and the shippers cannot leave them in the field much longer. For this reason it is believed the crop of Empire will soon be cleaned up. Most of the shipments are emperors and the crop is not considered very heavy. Prices are said to be holding up well in the east and the total amount of sales is expected to equal that of the past few years.

FRESNO SERVIANS READY TO GO HOME

Twenty-Two to Leave Sunday; War Fund Here
Reaches $1,500 Mark

Tickets were purchased yesterday from the Southern Pacific for twenty-two Servians who will leave Fresno Sunday for San Francisco to board a special train enroute to New York, where they sail for Serbia. The Serbian war fund in this city has reached the $1,500 mark, and prominent members of the local colony declare it will be doubled before the Balkan war is over. Charles Jevonovich yesterday deposited $1,349 in a local bank as part of the war fund.

Contributions have been received from only half of the local Servians, but these have run from $5 to $100 each and it is stated that many of those who have already donated will double their subscriptions. Those who have not been approached are expected to contribute at least $1,000, thus bringing the total amount up to the $2,000 goal. The Serbian lodge of this city contributed $500 from its treasury and half that amount was given by the Servians who had started to work, according to testimony of the young operators for the hand in a police court today.

Three boys, averaging a dozen years in age, called as witnesses in the case of John Clark, accused of a flat robbery, admitted committing the crime, but said it was instigated by Clark.

Chittenden Takes as Curios Weapons and Photos in Vernet Case

The people's gruesome exhibits in the case of Charles H. Loper, who was granted a new trial by the Supreme Court, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Joseph Vernet on Pine Ridge in the spring of 1889, were gathered up yesterday in the county clerk's office to be turned over to Sheriff Chittenden under permission of court to be retained by him as personal souvenirs of this celebrated case. Among the relics are the butcher knife with which Loper quartered and mutilated the body to facilitate removal and burial, also a large navy revolver and eight photographs depicting the mountain home of Vernet, scenes in the canyon traveled to the place of burial and the willow coupe concealed grave where the remains were unearthed after a long and tedious search of the neighborhood. Deputy Akers, now on the police force, was in large part instrumental in discerning the lone burial spot in the soft ground of the banks of a nearby mountain rivulet.

MEXICANS ARE HELD ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Upon a charge of robbing Joe Smith, two Mexicans, Silvio Alva and Ismael Barboza, were given their preliminary hearings yesterday morning before City Justice Graham and were bound over to the Superior Court. They were unable to furnish $2,000 bail and were returned to jail. The men were arrested some time ago by Patrolman Castner on suspicion that they were responsible for the many holdups that were being committed in this city by two men. The men were identified at the jail by Smith as the parties who had held him up at the Santa Fe depot. Detective Farman identified one of the Mexicans as the man he had seen near the scene of one of the holdups. Since the arrest of the men no more holdups have taken place in the city.

OLEANDER RANCHER
KILLED IN RUNAWAY

Hans Kaleur Dies as Result of Fall From Wagon;

Whipped Horses

In a runaway yesterday noon on Fig Avenue, Hans Kaleur, a wealthy Danish rancher of the Oleander district, was instantly killed when he was thrown from his wagon. His head struck the ground and his skull was crushed. Deputy Coroner Stephens held the inquest and a verdict of accidental death was rendered. Kaleur died near Oleander and also owned a ranch on Fig Avenue near Washington.

Yesterday morning he went to his Fig Avenue ranch with a load of lumber. He left the lumber and was on his way back to Oleander when he met his death. Witnesses testified at the inquest that they saw Kaleur driving his team in a flat wagon and that when he whipped the horses they started to run. Others testified that they saw Kaleur attempting to stop the frightened animals. No one saw Kaleur fall from the wagon, but his lifeless body was found by the side of the road by a pedestrian.

The supposition is that Kaleur either tried to jump from the wagon or was thrown out when the horses turned a sharp curve. The body was found by J. C. Sowaldsen, who saw the horses running down the road. Mrs. Clara Peterson saw the runaway, as did N. P. Hansen, a brother-in-law of Kaleur.

Dr. Conley was summoned to the scene of the accident, but Kaleur was dead before he arrived.

Kaleur was 67 years of age and came to this country from Denmark. He is survived by his wife and other relatives.

PROGRESSIVES AND PROTECTION AND POLITICAL SUGGESTIONS

By Frank H. Short

This campaign began apparently as an insurrection against the tariff, and it is apparently to end in an equally powerful crusade in its favor. The most astonishing of all the astonishing things that have occurred in this campaign is the appearance of the Progressives as advocates of the protective tariff.

When we remember that insurgency had its origin where certain members of the Republican party insurgents against the tariff, we will get a clearer idea of the real situation. The Republican party had been for half a century practically united upon the question of the protective tariff. Whatever differences may have existed on other lines, we always rallied and won upon the issue of protection; but some six or eight years ago a crusade was begun by the newspapers and magazines to discredit the tariff, and to cause the American people to believe that the protective tariff was the source of evil and the mother of the tariff.

Shortly after this crusade began, for the first time, a distinctive division appeared in the Republican party, insuring against the protective tariff. Within a short time divisions appeared both in the House and in the Senate, particularly in the former, and there developed a distinct school of insurgency in the Republican party against the tariff, and those Republicans who opposed the party's position in connection with protection were referred to always as "Insurgents."

Congressman R. C. Smith is credited at about this time with having said: "There are many definitions for insurgency, but there is one definition that never fails. An insurgent is a Republican who always votes with the Democrats on the tariff."

While this was before the party, and rechristened the "Progressive party," it is nevertheless true that as a continuous, consistent policy ever since this party came into existence, whether it be called the insurgent party, or the Progressive party, it has upon every occasion—whether it be the Democrats, (and sometimes, when even the Democrats were divided), for every free trade measure and every bill for the reduction of the protective tariff.

It is true that Colonel Roosevelt is the one man prominent in American politics who has served as President who has never officially taken any definite stand on the tariff. He has preferred to exhibit his courage in a thousand different ways, but never in any official way concerning the tariff, and it has been only during this cam-party, but have been partitioned and appropriated to the use of another party." Suppose one of these ingenuous public speakers should appear before an audience and say, as they really say every day in other connections, that they are not Republicans, that they have entirely separated themselves from the Republican party, that they not only oppose it, but proclaim it to be dead, and that they are engaged in the Herculean effort to build up and establish the Progressive party and to tear down and destroy the Republican party? That is in connection with this effort and under this scheme and plan, and not in the interests of or for the benefit of the Republican party in any way of manner whatsoever that they have taken the name and appropriated the title of the Republican party. What would happen if they did tell the truth, and would not the argument be ended when they had merely stated the situation?

But we are told that Taft's electors could have been put out by petition. That the leaders of the party have deprived the supporters of Taft of the opportunity to vote for him. Just why any supporters of Taft could not have proceeded by petition we are not told, but it is the leaders that are to blame. In effect we are told that when the supporters and defenders of the Republican party in this state found the supporters and advocates of a different party in the house of the Republican party, and in the possession of its legal rights and using its legal name, that when these usurpers of our rights pointed to the woodshed and said, "Keep out of the house, but take the woodshed," that we were guilty of inexcusable treason when this was done.

Even if this were not so, the people who appropriated the house and used the name and usurped the legal rights of the Republican party ought to be ashamed to point the way. We have heard this subject discussed now for months in this state. We have heard it discussed by Republicans, by Democrats, by Socialists and by Prohibitionists, and we have never heard an opinion expressed otherwise than that it was a crude, indefensible, political travesty, except when it was being discussed by a thoroughly Bill Monroe, with horns not less than six feet long. They may keep saying it over and over to themselves, and they may tell it to others, but they will never convince others that it is not an absolutely indefensible wrong, a wrong that will remain a stain and a blot upon the political record of California, and one that does not exist in any other state, for indefinitely time.

In fact, since the theft of the title of the Republican party became final by the decision of the Supreme Court to the effect that while it was wrong, they had no power to interfere, we have noticed a distinct disposition (at least in California) to treat the regular Taft Republicans as almost human, and we might even be allowed to assume notwithstanding the previous denunciations that have been visited upon us that after they had gotten away with all the goods, wares and merchandise, wrecked our house and ruined our reputations and held us up to the world as thieves, crooks and malefactors maligned, that the Progressives really thought rather highly of us after all. In this connection, however, we recall that upon a somewhat recent occasion—we believe it was in Missouri—and during one of Colonel Roosevelt's speeches as represented by the Associated Press some low and evil person passed that way with a banner on which was inscribed, "We Want Taft! Let Well Enough Alone," or words to that effect. Whereasupon the Colonel, notwithstanding a mighty rage at this fist and vindictiveness in that direction, in substance if not in effect, the supporters of Taft, one and all, were dishonest men that they were the supporters of receivers of stolen property, and that they were all "on a level" with the receivers of stolen goods. Also we recall that the candidate for vice president has been going over the East, referring to the President of the United States as one of the most discreditable figures in American history, and that uniformly, since the Progressives have abandoned and deserted the Republican party, they have referred to that party and the supporters of Taft as thieves, crooks, malefactors, and every kind of reprehensible if not the dictionless conceivable. We may but pause to inquire, did Roosevelt and Johnson desire to be elected by thieves, crooks and malefactors? Do they desire to be supported and elected by those who are on a level with receivers of stolen property? We believe in forgiving and forgetting in all proper cases, but persons who are incapable of honest remorse are usually lacking in honesty, and so far as eighty to ninety per cent of the Taft Republicans in this state are concerned, or any other state for that matter, the Progressives will have to win on their own strength, and on their own arguments, and by enlisting the Democrats. They certainly cannot win or hope to win by the votes of those whom they have so persistently and uniformly reviled and denounced.

Those who keep the faith and adhere to the principles and policies of the Republican party can refrain from voting, if they wish, they can vote for Wilson; they can vote for Chafin; they can vote for Debs; but they can not vote for the man of their choice. They can vote for Roosevelt if they like; but no one will think very highly of any American who kicked the foot that kicked him, who proves that he is on a level with the receivers of stolen property by casting his vote for the candidate who has sold little else, for several months but in denunciation of the Republican party and those who continued to support, protect and defend it.

AT LAST—A USE FOR THE RECALL!

In California we have had the Recall for something over two years. It has applied to judges and all other officials, except railroad commissioners. The result, so far, is that no official has been recalled—in fact, no petition even has been circulated for the recall of any judge. Therefore, if the recall has been of the slightest benefit to the people of California, it is wholly a benefit of an atmospheric nature, and so intangible that it can neither be alleged or denied. The recall, however, has not been altogether idle. It has had several times an effect with respect to city officials. In short, it has had a "quenching sense of civic righteousness" that has been to us, and in several instances to officials chosen to fill public offices and paid for official duties have been obliged to forego attention to their official duties for a number of months, and fight the recall. And municipalities have been much disturbed and divided, and divisions have occurred to an extent heretofore unknown. For instance, a professor of the University of California upon an occasion tried to capture a street meeting from the mayor of our classical university city, and the mayor afterwards ordered his faithful supporters to drive the college men away with sticks and stones and clubs. We have observed the actions of the recall, content to point out that the people may be compelled to forego the shield of liberty because they have not so far used it. Therefore, we may sum up the situation that the Progressives party? Why do they always fail to state that its electors have not been diverted to one thing or to one branch of the Republican party, but have been partitioned and appropriated to the use of another party?" Suppose one of these ingenuous public speakers should appear before an audience and say, as they really say every day in other connections, that they are not Republicans, that they have entirely separated themselves from the Republican party, that they not only oppose it, but proclaim it to be dead, and that they are engaged in the Herculean effort to build up and establish the Progressive party and to tear down and destroy the Republican party? That is in connection with this effort and under this scheme and plan, and not in the interests of or for the benefit of the Republican party in any way of manner whatsoever that they have taken the name and appropriated the title of the Republican party. What would happen if they did tell the truth, and would not the argument be ended when they had merely stated the situation?

But at last we have a real case for the recall. The Marquis sacrifice to Santa Clara, Marshall Black. Now, these words are not in defense of the separation or with the desire to make black appear to be white. "The in-between title senator" is one of the new fall by the wayside for whom we cannot at all sympathize. Even he said, "Neither do I condemn the recall and shut no more," had only words to the combination and reproach to himself. The "Buller than thou" of his own generation. For Mr. Black and all of his kind of whining, envying, self-contested snuff, I have only a full measure of contempt. Therefore, so far as we are concerned, you may proceed to ban or recall him as you wish, or open for the appropriate purpose of making soft soap for all we care. Nevertheless, the inquiry arises, why not remove him from office in the usual way when the Legislature meets? The recall will take time, a good deal of it, and money, a good deal of that, and the whole community will be distracted from legitimate business for several weeks, if not months. Of course, newspapers will be in demand—"Extra! Extra! All About Marshall Black!" Nobly. All About Marshall Black! Since the record shows, as we are informed, that he robbed all of his available friends, and did not overlook his own either. But what a chance for the uncaught and unconvicted scoundrel to denounce his crimes and proclaim their own virtues, as he has done in recent years has so eloquently done for himself! It is a pity to suggest anything that will impinge with this extra exhibition of righteous indignation. But, nevertheless, we do suggest that it would not take one-fourth the time or expense to remove him in the old, old way, by legislative resolution, that will be required by the intricate process of the recall. If the legislature desired to act upon the record, as we must assume it would, it would take about as much time and cost to get him impeached and to remove Marshall Black from office as would be required to kill a chicken or cut a cake.

But nevertheless, and apparently the recall must be conducted and an overripe victim in the person of Marshall Black will afford about as good an excuse for the unnecessary trouble and expense as could well be found. STINGY PERKINS

Referring to his testimony that he had contributed only $123,000 to Colonel Roosevelt's pre-convention campaign—the primary campaign—George W. Perkins is quoted by the Associated Press as saying, "That was absolutely all of my contributions," he declared emphatically. Well! Well! How stingy! But remember, that was only in the preliminary, pre-convention campaign. Besides, he had contributed, the Lord knows how much, in 1904, and is still coming through for "social justice" in the realest campaign of them all. So don't call George W. Perkins a "light-wad" until you have the full record. Besides, there was Bill Flynn, McCormick, Munsey, Hanna, et al. et al.

Mr. Perkins' testimony bristled with such explosions as "unmitigated lies," "absolutely false," "total untruth," and "mercy hot air." He said the various large amounts credited to G. W. P. in the list of contributors to that fund furnished to the committee by Elmer Dyer were undoubtedly secured by Treasurer C. N. Dilliss from men whose names he had suggested, or whom he had asked personally to contribute. Evidently G. W. P.'s right hand is the Steel trust, and his left hand in his handy friends, and like a truly generous man, he does not let his left hand know what his right hand doeth. And his name is George Washington, and he was made a horsef". What a pity!

QUOTATIONS

We are furnished with a list of quotations of good things said of Colonel Roosevelt in or about 1908. We quote a few only of the good things he has said of others, both before and since 1908.

The tariff—in a signed editorial in the Outlook, under date of September 17, 1910, Colonel Roosevelt said: "I think the present tariff (Payne-Aldrich tariff) is better than the last (Dingley Act) and considerably better than the one before the last (McKinley Act); but it has certainly failed to give satisfaction."

TAFT AND THE TARIFF

Before the Republican Club of the City of New York, February 10th, 1911, Colonel Roosevelt said:

"I want to say how glad I am to hear of the way in which the club, the members of the club here tonight, have responded to the two appeals made to them to uphold the honor of President Taft (took applause) both in his efforts to secure reciprocity with Canada and his effort to secure fortification of the Panama Canal (applause). And I shall the reciprocity arrangement, because it represents an effort to bring about a closer and more intimate and more friendly relationship or mutual advantage on equal terms between Canada and the United States." (Applause.)

You also remember what Colonel Roosevelt many times said of President Taft, and also what he said of Senator Root. Also that he said of himself in 1904, "Under no circumstances will I ever again be a candidate for President."

Both time and men change; but Colonel is never in a position to complain, because his Golden Rule in politics is, "Do unto others as they do unto you, but do it first."

NEW JERSEY VS. THE UNITED STATES

Colonel Roosevelt says, and Governor Johnson also says, that Governor Wilson should have driven the trusts out of New Jersey. Perhaps, assuming that the governor is also the legislature, they have it on the "Scholar in Politics." Just a trifling in this regard. For we understand the amount of patriotic, generous and statesmen-like and the record and achievements of the Republican party would have been heralded from coast to coast by the redoubtable Colonel and his running mate.

We also recall, however, that Colonel Roosevelt was President from early in 1901 until March, 1908. Assuming that the President was also Congress during those years (as he assumed to be and came pretty near to being), why are there any trusts left in the United States? Or why have we any trust question to settle? Why, during these nearly eight years, did the great American trusts multiply and repine in the earth, like Jersey mosquitoes in the merry month of May? If the questions to the Governor are pertinent, and far be it from us to say that they are not, why do not our Bill Moore friends consider the Colonel's record and the lack of limitation and record increase of the trusts during his two terms important?

PUBLICITY OF CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

And now comes Judge Parker and joins Colonel Roosevelt, and says that he did not know of the great contributions to his campaign, either. The rest of us might be kept in blind ignorance, but the law at least ought to compel the man who gets, keeps and uses such vast sums to know that they have been received and expended by him or in his behalf. The candidate that, like Colonel Roosevelt and Judge Parker, received such vast sums from such dubious sources, ought to be compelled to know it, so they could be held guilty or innocent or ingrateful. Some appear to prove gratitude more tangible, but we might as well ignore to exclude such obviously undesirable ignorance of such material things as contributions running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, as has one's own campaign fund.

Now You Can Get Beer
Without That
"SKUNKY" Taste!

All you have to do is to ask for Schlitz in Brown Bottles.

Sunlight grows hops, but spoils the beer.

"Beer acted upon by light soon takes up the very disagreeable, so-called 'light taste,' and also a repulsive, skunk-like odor."

says no less an authority than the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentation, the scientific authorities on the subject. "Beer so affected," they say, "is offensive to the palate of most consumers."

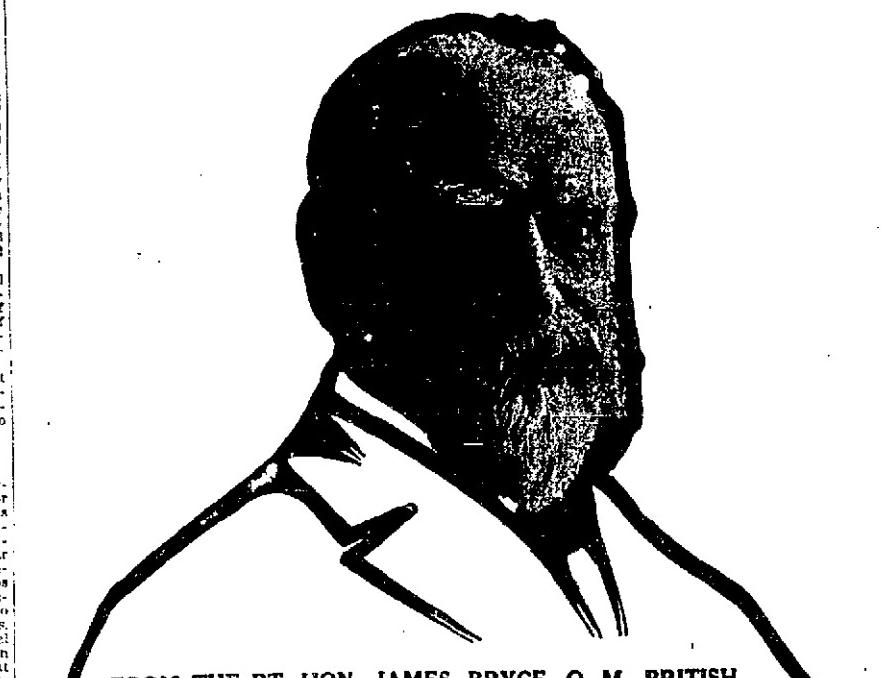

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives the best protection against light. The Brown Bottle protects Schlitz purity from the brewery to your glass.

Why don't you, too, drink Schlitz? More and more people every year are demanding it.

We started in a hut. Today our agencies dot the earth. Our output exceeds a million barrels a year.

See that crown or cork is branded "Schlitz."

FROM THE RT. HON. JAMES BRYCE, O. M., BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO THE UNITED STATES AND AUTHOR OF "THE AMERICAN COMMONWEALTH"

British Embassy,
Washington,
March 6, 1912.

Dear Mr. Haskin:

Thank you very much for your interesting and valuable book upon the departments of the Federal Government and their working. It is full of useful and practical knowledge and I wish very much that I had had it or something like it, both when I was writing "The American Commonwealth" and when I first came here as ambassador.

I am sure we have no book over in England which gives a similar account of the actual details of the working of the various Departments in our elaborate and complicated system, though of course we have plenty of books upon the organizations of our Government as a whole and its Constitutional working. I hope you will find means of keeping the book up-to-date from time to time in new editions as frequent changes happen in a country growing so rapidly as yours.

I am,

Very truly yours,

Frederic J. Haskin, Esq.

RACE TRACK BILL IS SEVERELY CONDEMNED

Sunday School Convention at Lemoore Passes Resolutions Urging Defeat

LEMOORE, Oct. 24.—At the evening session of the Sunday convention, or the Lemoore district held here Tuesday, Attorney F. S. Gruber spoke on the proposed initiative proposition which in its beginning purports to be an anti-gambling law, but which is really a bill to become race track gambling under the Paris mutual system of betting. If this measure should become a law it would supersede and make non-effective our present anti-track gambling law. At the conclusion of this address the convention passed a strong resolution against the proposed measure.

The convention was held at the Presbyterian church Tuesday. President J. C. Blakley called the meeting in order for the morning services where Mrs. Hattie Curtis, superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday school delivered a fine address on "Teacher Training."

This was followed by a fine paper on "Conversion," by Miss Margaret Hayes, superintendent of the local Baptist church.

Mrs. Walker of Denver field worker of the Interdenominational Society, spoke on the "Primary Department Work."

In the afternoon session Mrs. Walker again addressed the convention on the "Interdenominational work of the Sunday school." The key word of the convention was Evangelism in the Sunday school.

At this point Rev. May Bell, who is holding evangelistic services for his brother in Laton, held an evangelistic service of a half hour, practically illustrating Sunday school training with the result that eight or more persons were converted.

Mrs. Walker spoke again on "The Method of Jesus as a Teacher." All the addresses were of a high order and the convention was considered a successful one by all who had the pleasure of attending it.

SCHOOLS TO OBSERVE FLAG DAY IN TURLOCK

Patriotic Program Arranged and Speeches to Be Made to School Children

TURLOCK, Oct. 24.—This city is fully decorated with American flags and banners in honor of Flag Day, which will be observed tomorrow by the three local schools under the auspices of the Turlock Post of the G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps.

The ceremonies will start at 3 o'clock when the pupils from all the schools will march from their respective schools to point in the center of the city, where during a lengthy program that has been arranged, they will receive from the members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. three beautiful American flags.

The presentation speeches will be made by Joseph H. Lawrence of the G. A. R., who is patrol instructor of the Department of California and Nevada. Mr. Lawrence will also act as the principal speaker of the day.

EXECUTED FOR MURDER
SALT LAKE, Oct. 24.—A firing squad executed Thomas Riley at the state prison here today. Riley was the second man to die for the murder of George Fassell, a grocer, in March, 1910. With Harry Thorne, executed last month, he held up Fassell's store. Thorne shot Fassell as the latter stood with his hands over his head.

FOUND "INSANE AND SO NOT GUILTY"
Jury Acquits Man and Woman Driven to Murder by Horrible Wrongs

COLFAX, Wash., Oct. 24.—"Not guilty, by reason of insanity," was the verdict returned today by the jury in the case of Mr. and Mrs. George Webb Brown, charged with the murder of Al Nevers, Mrs. Brown's father. "The jury finds that there is danger of a recurrence and it is dangerous for the parties to be at large," the verdict adds. Counsel for the defense filed objection to the verdict on the ground that it was unconstitutional. The case went to the jury last night.

According to the testimony, Nevers, by reason of insanity, was the verdict returned today by the jury in the case of Mr. and Mrs. George Webb Brown, charged with the murder of Al Nevers, Mrs. Brown's father. "The jury finds that there is danger of a recurrence and it is dangerous for the parties to be at large," the verdict adds. Counsel for the defense filed objection to the verdict on the ground that it was unconstitutional. The case went to the jury last night.

"Confession: Pardon me for not writing sooner, but I wanted to see if I could stay cured. I can now truthfully say I am perfectly well. I wish to express my thanks. I have no pain, no cough, no night sweats, no hay fever. Since a child of two years, I have been ailing with lung trouble, which grew worse as I grew older. At the age of fourteen, the doctor said if I could not be sent South, I would surely die of Consumption. Every winter I would be sure to have either Bronchitis, Pleurisy or Pneumonia. I had Typhoid-Pneumonia one time. I had catarrh of the stomach and bowels and had Hay Fever for the last few years but have not anything of the kind this year."

"I will answer all letters sent to me, asking a history of my case, from any one suffering with lung trouble."

PERSONAL MENTION OF PROMINENT PEOPLE OF SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

POSTOFFICE MUST BE NEAR R. R. STATION

Porterville Notified of Proposed Changes by Department at Washington

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 24.—The statement was received from Washington yesterday that as rapidly as changes can be made, postoffices must hereafter be placed within at least a quarter of a mile of railroad stations. As the office in Porterville is a little more than a mile distant from the Southern Pacific station, if the order is carried out here, it will mean that the office must be moved to south Main street, at least as far south as the bridge over Porter's trough. It is stated that this order comes as the development of the proposed inauguration of the parlors post.

TULARE CHURCH IS TO COST $20,000

Methodists Begin Work of Excavating This Week; Carpenters Will Begin Construction Next Week

TULARE, Oct. 24.—The work of excavating for the new Methodist Episcopal church is now well under way, with prospects of its being completed by the first of next week, when the construction work will begin.

The church is to cost $20,000, and will be constructed of white building blocks. The plans adopted are along distinctly original lines. The main auditorium will be lined with twenty cushioned rooms which by an arrangement of roll doors can be joined to the main auditorium.

DEMOCRATS INVITE GERTRUDE AERTHTON

Will Be Asked to Porterville to Try to Stem the Rising Tide of Popularity of the Rough Rider

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 24.—The Wilson and Marshall club met last evening to make the plans for meetings to be held here at the close of the presidential campaign. J. W. Martin a Democratic leader stated that the meeting resulted in a unanimous declaration in favor of securing Miss Gertrude Atherton for an address for Wilson and Marshall. Failing to secure the author of other well known speakers of the party will be given invitations to appear here to discuss the issue of the campaign.

While Porterville is strongly Republican, and will return a big majority for Teddy, the Bourbon leaders hope to at least in part stem the tide for the great Rough Rider.

FORESTERS WILL INITIATE CLASS

Applications of 42 Prospective Members Acted Upon at Hanford; To Confer Degrees November 6

HANFORD, Oct. 24.—Court Assisted Foresters of America held an enthusiastic session last night with Organizer A. S. Alexander in attendance, and a showing of 42 applications toward the big class initiation fixed November 6th. Grand Chief Ranger Judge James G. Quinn of Oakland will be present when the big class goes in on November 6th.

DISCOVERY SAVES MADEIRA BAD FIRE

MADEIRA, Oct. 24.—What might have proved another disastrous fire in Madeira was averted by the fortunate discovery in time to put it out before it made much headway. A shed in the rear of the Madeira restaurant was found burning and as the restaurant is located in the heart of the city another bad fire would have resulted had it gotten a good start, for a large tank of fuel oil was stored over the shed, and this would have given the fire a start that it would have been hard to combat. The fire was extinguished before the department arrived with extinguishers. Several wooden buildings adjoin the restaurant.

FLORAL FAIR WILL OCCUR IN NEWMAN

Women Plan Event for Nov. 1 and 2; Auto Parade and Program of Events Is Being Arranged

NEWMAN, Oct. 24.—The Women of the Improvement Club are busily at work on the program for the Floral Fair to be given Nov. 1 and 2. A street parade with prizes for the best decorated machines, carriages, floats and saddle horses has been arranged for, and there will be prizes also for the best flowers of various varieties.

The program committee is working every day, drilling, singing, dancing, monologues, etc., and promises a program that will be unsurpassed in the amateur annals of Newman.

The big show is the latter part of next week, so there is no time to be lost. Hustle is the word.

Three young ladies, Misses Edna Bell of Newman, Lucile McAlpin of Fresno, Leland and Aurelia Bradley of Gustine, have been nominated for the Queen of the Queen of the floral fair.

MEXICAN ARRESTED FOR ROBBING RIG

HANFORD, Oct. 24.—Guadalupe Gutierrez, a Mexican fruit laborer, was arrested in Armonia and brought to jail by Constable McGinnis charged with stealing a buggy robe and woman's cloak from a rig in Armonia last night. He pleaded not guilty in Justice Smith's court and will stand trial.

MODESTO HUNTERS SHOOT MANY DUCKS

MODESTO, Oct. 24.—Enthusiastic sportsmen spent Wednesday morning on the three gun preserves in the San Joaquin river. The best shooting was the preserve of the owl feed and gun club on the hill just west of this city. Several hunters bagged close to 100 birds from this place, both ducks and geese being plentiful. On the Clinton rapids, the preserve of the Modesto Gun club, and on the Brush Lake preserve there was fair shooting.

TITLE TO LAND INVOLVED IN SUIT

MODESTO, Oct. 24.—The suit of H. J. Whipple vs. Mary Corcoran, involving a tract of land in this county, was heard in the Superior Court Wednesday afternoon before Judge Fulbright. The plaintiff was granted ten days in which to file the opening brief, the defendant 10 days to file an answering brief, and the plaintiff 10 days to file the closing brief. The case will then be submitted to the court.

CATHOLIC BAZAAR OPENS IN MODESTO

MODESTO, Oct. 24.—Tonight at the Auditorium the bazaar under the auspices of the ladies of the Catholic church opens with a musical and vocal program. Father Moran, pastor of St. Bernard's church at Tracy, delivered the opening address. Other numbers were a dramatic reading by Eddie Fox, a baritone solo by Walter Kerrick and a one-act tragedy entitled "The Morning After" by Modesto's favorite tragedians, Jim Edwards and Ray Whithy.

HOME TALENT SHOW IS PROFITABLE VENTURE FOR PORTERVILLE DAY

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 24.—According to a detailed statement which was filed by A. G. Storie, formerly of Fresno, the local grain merchant who was appointed manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, amateur show, the entertainment which was one of the big features of Porterville day, netted the Chamber of Commerce treasury almost exactly $400.

When it is considered that the entire account of the performance, including special costumes, etc., was almost $250, the complete success of the evening is little short of phenomenal.

PORTERVILLE EAGLES INITIATE CLASS OF 20

Many Leading Members of Order in Valley Present at Big Festivities

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 24.—Over 100 of the leading Eagles of California met here this evening for a big class initiation which was held at the Second street pavilion, and which resulted in 29 leading business men and orange growers of this district learning of the mysteries of the order.

Following the degree work, which was put on by the degree team from the Bakersfield aerie, the visitors and the local members of the order were served at the banquet which was served in the Eagle hall.

Several entertaining talks were given by leading members of the order, and it was well toward morning when the last of the toasts had been heard.

Bakersfield arrived for the big meeting in a special car at 5:30, and were met at the S. P. station by an escort of honor, including the local aerie, together with visitors from Vigalia, Tulare and Lindsay, and with the Porterville band in the lead they were taken to their quarters in local hotels. Visalia, Exeter, Lindsay, Tulare and Fresno sent big delegations for the gathering.

RANCH HOUSE FIRE IS LAID TO INCENDIARY

Officers Are Following Up Clue and Hope to Land Guilty Party Soon

MODESTO, Oct. 24.—The ranch home of J. S. Brown, near Denair, was burned in the ground Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock while the owner was visiting a neighbor's a short distance away.

Incendiarism is believed to have been the cause of the blaze and the officers in the vicinity, as well as those at the sheriff's office, are making an investigation. First report was brought to this city Wednesday afternoon stating that a note warning the owner that the building would be burned, had been tacked on the door of the home, but this report is untrue.

A thorough examination, however, was made by the officers yesterday afternoon, and it is probable that an arrest will be made today as the officers are in possession of a clew which promises to lead to the guilty party behind the bars.

The house was formerly the property of Claude Shafer of Turlock and was one of the prettiest ranch bungalows in that section of the country.

COALINGA HAPPENINGS

COALINGA, Oct. 24.—Mrs. J. M. Ferguson, wife of the superintendent of the Phoenix Crude Oil Company, was operated on Tuesday and is getting along very nicely. The operation took place at Burnett sanitarium in Fresno. J. M. Ferguson will be home in two or three days.

The newly formed Olfelds club gave its initial dance this evening at Recreation hall on the Limited. There was a large attendance and the function was enjoyed by those present. The event this evening was the forerunner of a series of dances to be given by the club during the winter.

Mr. G. W. Mills arrived from Oakdale today and will remain for some time. She came in response to a message that her sister was dangerously ill. Mrs. P. S. Barber, her sister, is the wife of the manager of the telephone exchange.

Mrs. Addie Livingston was an arrival from Fresno yesterday.

E. J. Linda is in the city from Mentor, Ore.

L. B. Hayhurst is here on business from Fresno.

H. G. Shoulton came in this morning from San Francisco.

William Wallace has returned from a business trip to the Bay city.

William Kelly has returned from Merced, where he has been for several days on business.

Thomas R. McIntyre, secretary for S. A. Guberson, Jr., left this evening for San Francisco on business.

F. W. Woods, a Merced real estate dealer, who has been to Merced on business several days, returned to his home last evening.

The Weston came over from Hanford last evening to visit Mrs. M. G. DeLong. Her report on her condition very much improved.

F. W. Guberson has returned from a business trip to Fresno.

MODESTO ATHLETE BREAKS HIS ARM

MODESTO, Oct. 24.—Wally, practicing on the horizontal bar at the high school athletic grounds Wednesday, Roy Hilt, residing six miles north of Modesto, fell and broke his left forearm just above the wrist. The young man will be forced to enter his arm in a sling for several days.

He will speak at River Bend on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Gurney's.

J. W. Guberson, Democratic candidate for the assembly from Kings county, is accompanying him in his trip through the county.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—Vernon slugged out a victory in the first inning today, making it three straight from Portland and maintaining its margin in the close pennant contest. Higginbotham was easy for Hogan in team and before Gregg was sent in to relieve him, six runs had been scored off as many hits, and a brace of errors by Krueger and McCarley. Gregg ended the inning by striking out the Baum and Carlisle, and for the remainder of the game held Vernon to a single tally. Gregg had eight strikeouts to his credit.

Vernon was fortunate in getting an early start, as the home team played a rugged game in the field, and the two runs made by Portland were each started by an error by Hoppe. The other three errors by Vernon were not costly, due to the good work of Baum at critical stages.

Carlisle opened the last half of the first inning with a single, and took second when Krueger failed to field the ball. Burrell sacrificed the runner to third, and Carlisle scored on Taylor's infield single. Brashears doubled to right, Bayles going to third, and both scored on Hoppe's single to left. Hoppe reached second base on Rodgers' error, and scored after Litschi had walked, on McDonnell's single. A wild pitch advanced Litschi and McDonnell, and both scored on Brown's single. McCredie gave Higginbotham the recall sign, but the damage had been done.

TURLOCK BASKETBALL TEAM TO PLAY MADERA

MADERA, Oct. 24.—The Turlock high school is coming in full force next Saturday to compete with the Madera high for honors in basketball and tennis. The tennis tournament will be held on the high school court of 1x60, and a stirring game is expected. The local team has been practicing diligently for over a week past and all are in prime condition and ready to put up a stiff game.

The basketball game will be played at the skating rink at 7:30. They too, have been practicing and claim that they have a team that is hard to beat. For the tennis game the Madera players are as follows:

Girls' singles—Lucy Whiting, Boys' singles—Matthew Conley.

Girls' doubles—Myrtle Gerlson and Cathy Bennett.

Boys' doubles—Will Isakson and Leslie Conley.

Mixed doubles—Cathy Bennett and Leslie Conley.

The Madera basketball team will line up as follows:

Center—Truman Wood.

Forwards—Leslie Conley and Archie Post.

Guards—Henry McFadden and Leslie Trine.

LIPTON SAYS VISIT IS PLEASURE TRIP

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—It is reported that Sir Thomas Lipton is trying to make arrangements for another race for America's Cup, which he already has tried to win three times with the Shamrocks. This report is contradicted by A. W. Melville, who is the representative of Sir Thomas Lipton in this country. The present visit of Sir Thomas is to be one of pleasure, he says, and while yachting is his favorite sport, he does not expect to discuss yachting at all.

Three years ago Sir Thomas came here to make an extended tour of this country, which he never has been able to do. He wanted to visit Canada, cross the Rockies, see the far West and Pacific coast and then visit the South, but after he had been here a few weeks he was called home on important business and had to cancel all engagements. Now he intends to continue what he started then. He will spend a few days in New York and then go to Canada before the weather gets very cold. He will visit Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa, Victoria and cross the Pacific coast.

Speaking of this trip, Sir Thomas said: "The reason I am going to arrange another race for the America's cup is not correct. I am still anxious to arrange another race and nothing would please me more than that. The New York Yacht club should agree to a race under its own rule of measurement. I have stated my stand many times, and that every one knows what I want and where I stand. I expect to do nothing in the matter while I am in the United States."

RAISIN LEAGUE WILL PLAY AT RECREATION

The Raisin City League will play at Recreation Park this Sunday and a big crowd is expected to be on hand to witness the double header. The Druids and the Eastern Giants will start the ball rolling when they meet in the first game at 6 o'clock. The Indians will be in the second game at 8 o'clock. Both games promise to be close and exciting, as the teams always put up good exhibitions. The admission fee will be twenty-five cents.

Knockout Brown will

MEET DILLON IN MATCH

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Knockout Brown, the Chicago middleweight, and Jack Dillon of Indianapolis, were matched today to box eight rounds here for a Memphis club November 15.

I am still anxious to arrange another race and nothing would please me more than that. The New York Yacht club should agree to a race under its own rule of measurement. I have stated my stand many times, and that every one knows what I want and where I stand. I expect to do nothing in the matter while I am in the United States."

I have stated my stand many times, and that every one knows what I want and where I stand. I expect to do nothing in the matter while I am in the United States."

McCarey's suggestion that the contest for the heavyweight crown be limited to white men will meet an instant and world-wide response. The defeat of Jim Jeffries by the Chicago negro has done more to kindle race hatred than any other single event since the days of slavery. Contests between black men and white has brought boxing into disrepute.

McCarey's suggestion that the contest for the heavyweight crown belongs to the strongest hand that can grab it.

Last night Tom McCarey stepped into the breach. At the suggestion of the sporting editor of the Times he made a formal offer to the heavyweight boxers of the world to give magnanimous belt to the one who establishes his right to the lapsed title of heavyweight champion. Only white men, however, will be eligible to compete for the title and the McCarey belt.

"I have not a particle of prejudice against the colored race," said McCarey, "but I feel that the holding of this title by Jack Johnson has engendered such bitterness and so much feeling that future contests should be limited to white men. A feeling has grown up that white men should not be put in the ring fighting against black men. The colored men can hold their own championships."

I don't want to appear as trying to dictate to the boxing world, but no boxer should be put to the shame of looking up to Jack Johnson as the champion of the world. Through the years I will now make the offer to him. I will now make the offer to him. He has entered the ring with the track record for two years and was entered to the Athletics two years ago and later went to the St. Louis Browns on a trade. He is an out-and-out and a hard hitter.

Local Forecast: Unsettled weather Friday, probably with showers late in the day.

GENERAL CONDITIONS
The disturbance noted on the Washington coast on Wednesday evening is moving slowly inland with gradually lower pressure over Northern California, Oregon and Washington. It has caused cloudy weather in the Sacramento valley and continued rain in the north Pacific states but elsewhere west of the Rockies the weather is fair. East of the Rockies also it is fair except over the northeast where the disturbance, which remained central about New York City is causing rain in New York, Pennsylvania and New England. Temperature changes have not been important but a rise is shown in most sections.

The disturbance on the north coast is moving very slowly and so far it has had little effect on weather conditions in California. unsettled weather may be expected in Fresno and vicinity during Friday, probably with showers late in the day.

UNUSUAL PENALTY IS PLANNED FOR SPEEDERS

Will Forfeit Right to Drive Cars If Proposal Wins

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 24.—Auto speeding in Santa Monica hereafter may result in the offender forfeiting his right to drive a machine in California for a specified term by a new and original plan which Chief Marshal and Police Judge Carlo expects to effectually check speeding.

Persons convicted of exceeding the speed limits are to be fined and given the alternative of paying the fine or pledge themselves not to drive an automobile for 20, 40 or 90 days, as the sentence may impose.

Travers R. Tousley of Los Angeles was fined $10 for exceeding the speed limit and accepted the alternative of not driving in the state again for 90 days. In the event he does, he will be rearrested and fined or jail sentence may be imposed.

"I believe this plan better than sending speeders to jail," said Chief Randall, "but if it does not, I shall begin the use of the new city jail for speeders as soon as it is completed."

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Almost the only noteworthy feature of today's stock market was its stubborn resistance of bear attacks. From the very outset the short interest adopted an aggressive attitude, finding slight encouragement in the action of foreign markets, but moderate support invariably resulted in general recovery.

The selling movement concentrated against United States Steel, the Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Lehigh Valley, and embracing some of the minor speculative and American Cos.

Prices moved uncertainly until the last session but the support was again effective in restoring the general level to a fraction over the preceding day's close.

Time money was firmer on increased demand, but rates were unchanged.

Renders reflected the irregular course of stocks on light trading. Total sales, per value, were $1,776,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call

BIG DEMAND FOR STORE ROOMS; BUILDING BOOM IS UNDER WAY

Dozen or More Business Structures in Course of Construction or Contemplated; Downtown District Is Branching Out in Every Direction This Fall

That Fresno is in the midst of one of the biggest building booms in its history is evidenced from the demand for store rooms. The business section of the city is branching out in every direction and demands are made daily for store buildings, large and small.

From the Southern Pacific yards to the Santa Fe depot there are new structures in course of construction and several contemplated. In the past year Tulare street between the two depots has developed no less than twenty new stores, most of them located in one-story brick buildings, but designed for store rooms. Provisions are being made for store rooms, though several occupying the first floor of two-story structures. On Kern street in the same number of new stores in the same length of time is almost a dozen.

Other streets that have shown development both north and south are H. L. J. K. and L. At present there are no less than a dozen business houses already under way or about to be started. A half dozen others of prominence are being talked of and the next three years give promise of breaking all records in the building line. The demand for store rooms is greater than ever and business rooms will be a prominent until several of the new buildings are completed. In the downtown section the greatest demand comes from the tenants in the Fiske block at J and Mariposa streets. These tenants have been notified by S. N. Griffith, through his attorneys, that they must find other quarters before June 1, 1913. After the building has been vacated, it will be torn down.

PLANS FOR FISKE BLOCK.

Griffith is having plans drawn for a modern, steel and brick ten-story structure with large rooms for stores and a moving picture show on the

Our Prices On Blankets and Comforters

25% Lower Than Others

This is one of the reasons that this department, though it has been in existence only two years, is growing to be one of the most important in our store. The other reason is that the people of Fresno are learning that they can depend on what we tell them, and know that they get just what they pay for. If we say a blanket is 60 per cent wool, it is so, and if it is cotton, we do not hesitate to tell you. Our stock of blankets and comforters is very complete. We have a wide variety of weights and prices.

NATURAL GAS MEANS EXPENDITURE OF $400,000

Minimum Cost of Pipe Line From Coalings Fields Is Quarter Million

Plan Is Big Success Elsewhere; Municipal Plant Is Suggested

To supply Fresno with natural gas from the coalings fields it would cost the city anywhere from $100,000 to $150,000 according to estimates made yesterday by Vice Engineer Jensen and Carl E. Jensen, Telfair. Both estimates are based on the laying of an eight-inch pipe line a distance of 12 miles, for which the maximum cost is $125,000 and the minimum $85,000. Jensen places it at $89,000 for a six-inch pipe at the rate of $1 per linear foot.

For six-inch pipe the cost would be less than a quarter of a million, but it is believed this size would be too small to satisfy the demand. In the pipe line now in operation between the Sunset Ranch of Kern county and Los Angeles, eight-inch pipe is used. Another line of eight-inch tubing is now being laid and the supply is said to be unlimited. The amount available in the Coalings fields is not known, but the estimates made by Jensen and Telfair are interesting because of the success of similar projects elsewhere in the United States.

NATURAL GAS IN EAST

For instance, natural gas is piped from the Sunset district to Los Angeles, a distance of 55 miles, through an eight-inch tube, and the price of gas in Los Angeles is 50 cents a thousand feet.

In Fresno the price is 50¢. In the last, there are many pipe lines from the Pennsylvania fields to the large cities and one line 450 miles in length runs from Warfield, Kentucky, to Cincinnati, and the price of gas in that city is 65 cents a thousand. The plan has proved so successful in Los Angeles that another eight-inch pipe line is contemplated.

Jensen and Telfair suggest wrought iron pipes instead of cast iron pipes so as to reduce the cost. A cast iron pipe line would cost a half million and wrought iron has been tested by the oil companies in their pipe lines from the valley to the bay cities. Last spring the cost per barrel foot was 51.02, according to Telfair. This fell a slight reduction was made by the Eastern factories in the price on large shipments and the new estimate is $1, which includes cost of pipe, freight rates, unloading, handling, digging of trenches, laying of pipe, coupling and refilling of ditcher.

TALK MUNICIPAL PLANT

At the weekly meeting of the chamber of commerce Wednesday night, the directors passed a resolution recommending to Mayor Snow and the city trustees that they appoint a committee to investigate the amount of natural gas available in the Coalings fields. The resolution also suggested that the city take the Pacific Gas and Electric company to the last ditch in obtaining a dollar rate for Fresno. Several directors suggested a flight for 50 cent gas and the building of a municipal plant if the pipe line from Coalings is not feasible.

Jensen and Telfair estimated that a municipal plant would cost less than a pipe line.

It was stated yesterday by several business men that the amount of natural gas available from the oil wells of the Malony fields, just south of Coalings, is unlimited and the supply would be sufficient to give Fresno 50 cent gas. These same men were strong in their condemnation of the gas company for breaking faith with the city in asking for an injunction in the federal court at Los Angeles after the officials had promised that late Mayor Rowell last spring that the city ordinances would be obeyed to the letter. At present, Fresno has the highest gas rate in the state for a town of like population.

and the structure is the most beautiful in the city. On the ground floor between the hotel and Dr. Cooper's two story building, the hotel company is putting up a one-story steel and concrete store room, which will probably be leased in the near future. The store rooms in the Cooper building have been rented and the firms are now moving in.

The Chance block on I street, between Mariposa and Fresno, has been completely remodeled and one story added to the former two story structure. The top floors are of pressed brick. The stairway is now being remodeled and with its completion union shop headquarters will be moved from the Barton building to their new location.

The fire of a year ago forced the labor unions to seek new quarters.

They will now occupy the second floor of the remodeled Chance building and the third floor will be used for offices.

These new buildings are expected to relieve the strong demand for store rooms and offices, though at the rate Fresno is growing additional space may be necessary before 1915.

TAFT REPUBLICANS WILL MEET TODAY

Executive Board Is to Hold Session; Needham Not to Be Endorsed

The executive board of the Taft Republican Club will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the office of Frank H. Short, in the Fresno National Bank building. Among the matters to come before the meeting will be a discussion of the fight for congress in this district. Short stated yesterday that while no endorsement will be made, the Taft Republicans are supporting Needham and expect all irregular Republicans to vote for the present congressman.

Statements were made on the streets yesterday that the Taft club would probably endorse Needham at today's meeting, but Short denied that this action is contemplated. Short believes it is the duty of all regular Republicans to support Taft and Needham regardless of the action taken by any club in endorsing a candidate. He said he based this statement on the belief that Taft and Needham are the nominees of the Republican party.
